

John Rubino

Product designer in NYC with 4+ years simplifying complex, regulated financial workflows. I partner closely with product and engineering, let research shape decisions, ship in both Figma and code, and use Devin, Codex, and Claude Code to take features from problem framing to production.

EXPERIENCE

BNY Pershing · Product Designer, Wealth Services

Sep 2023 – Present

Regulated wealth platform for advisors, institutions, and Introducing Broker-Dealers — account opening, money movement, and securities lending where compliance constraints and clarity have to coexist.

- Co-led the rebuild of New Account Opening and Asset Movement: redesigned the information architecture, interaction model, and end-to-end flows for two flagship multi-step advisor workflows, balancing compliance requirements, required disclosures, and edge cases with a clear, intuitive path.
- Lead designer on Fully Paid Lending: owned a new securities-lending product end to end, from problem framing through launch — enrollment, dashboard, and position views now live in NetX for all Introducing Broker-Dealers; a March beta partner lent $27M in a day ($49.9k to the investor, $10.7k to the IBD).
- Brought user feedback, analytics, and stakeholder input into design decisions, flagged scope and UX tradeoffs to PMs early, and shipped phased improvements rather than one-shot redesigns.
- Worked within and extended the Wealth Services design system — contributed reusable components, states, and annotated specs so dense, system-heavy surfaces stay consistent as teams ship new flows.
- Partnered with internal teams to develop workflows and AI-enabled patterns for the Wealth Services design team; build working prototypes in Figma and code with Devin, Codex, and Claude Code, and mentor designers through critique and AI-assisted process.
