

John Rubino

Product designer in NYC with 4+ years making complex financial products clear, credible, and easy to navigate. I partner closely with product and engineering, let research and data guide decisions, ship in both Figma and code, and use Devin, Codex, and Claude Code to take work from first sketch to production.

EXPERIENCE

BNY Pershing · Product Designer, Wealth Services

Sep 2023 – Present

Wealth platform for advisors, institutions, and Introducing Broker-Dealers — complex, regulated financial products where layout, typography, hierarchy, and clear explanation decide whether people understand and act.

- Lead designer on Fully Paid Lending: owned a new securities-lending product from problem framing through launch — shaped how the offer is explained and enrolled, then shipped dashboard and enrollment UI with engineering; now live in NetX for all Introducing Broker-Dealers, and a March beta partner lent $27M in a day ($49.9k to the investor, $10.7k to the IBD).
- Maintained and evolved shared Wealth Services design-system patterns — reusable components, layout and type standards, annotated specs, and accessibility-minded details that let designers and engineers scale consistent, high-quality work across many surfaces.
- Co-led New Account Opening and Asset Movement: scoped and led redesigns of two flagship multi-step journeys, balancing required disclosures and edge cases with a clear hierarchy and an easy path to completion.
- Used user feedback, research, and analytics to guide and validate decisions; brought work to critique early and often and partnered with PMs and engineers to iterate in phases rather than one-shot redesigns.
- Partnered with internal teams to develop workflows and AI-enabled patterns for the Wealth Services design team; prototype in Figma and code with Devin, Codex, and Claude Code, speak fluently with front-end engineers on implementation, and mentor designers on craft and handoff.
